Foreign interests have bought almost 16,000 U.S. companies since 1978, often moving abroad the R&D, jobs, and future wealth creation. (See list of companies sold on www.EconomyInCrisis.Com)

Many of these buyers are governments, including China, Dubai, and Saudi Arabia.

The Bush Administration refuses to require these governments and their U.S. partners to disclose these purchases or their activities in the U.S.

Will you force such disclosure and regulate foreign government purchases of U.S. corporations?
